Generative AI on your mind?

Deliver what's possible

Ideate, co-innovate, and learn from Coforge on how to drive Generative AI advantage.

Effective application of Generative AI (GenAI) will drive exponential value across the enterprise. It will disrupt the status quo, create new revenue streams, and increase automation & efficiency. It will not only drive cost optimization, but it will also directly impact many of the roles performed today.

Questions you may be asking yourself?

How will AI affect my business risks and priorities?

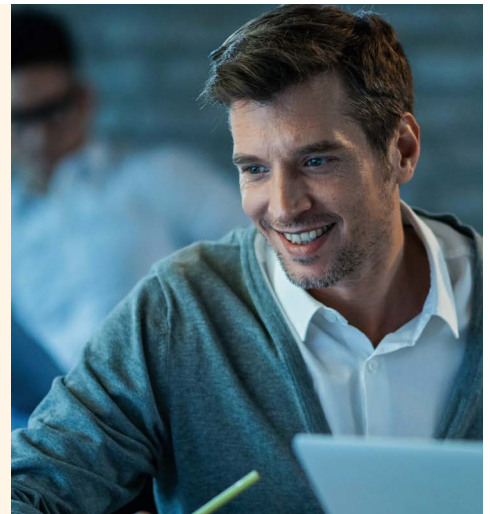

Where do I get started?

What should be my approach?

How and what should we prioritize?

What are the investment costs vs. the opportunity costs?

Where do I find best practices, and how do I benchmark against my competitors?

Wherever you are on your journey, Coforge will meet you there. Coforge can help ideate, co-innovate, and develop your capabilities and services based on your needs, our understanding and experience with the technology. We in fact have boiled the ocean for you. Leveraging Coforge for your Gen AI initiatives will allow you to move beyond the hype and into what matters most – harnessing the disruption.

Where do we start?

The Coforge Gen AI workshop

The Preliminary Call (Typically 30 mins)

This allows us to understand your objectives, business imperatives, areas of focus, current maturity, and so on.

The Workshop (Typically 4 hours)

To help you understand the “state of the union” and our approach on “how and where to start”. We look at the industry, horizontal use cases, and capabilities to build. Together we identify where we put a stake in the ground. We will end the workshop by identifying proof of concepts and pilots that can create immediate value.

The Pilot (Typically 2 weeks to 4 weeks)

To showcase the art of what's possible with your data, your infrastructure, and your systems.

Why Coforge?

We power some of the leading Fortune 1000 organizations with our in-house AI accelerators and toolkits built using proprietary, custom-developed models, frameworks, and open-source technologies. Our experience covers a multitude of AI technologies such as Machine Learning, Computer Vision, Natural Language Processing, Speech-to-Text / Text-to-Speech, Knowledge Graphs, and others.

- We have implemented over 100 use cases in the form of production implementations, proof of concepts, limited production pilots, customized demos, etc., across various industries.
- Our AI accelerators and toolkits are built on the latest technology with proprietary extensions to further enrich and enhance functionality with no commercial third-party dependency.
- Deep expertise on AI technologies such as MLOps, Knowledge Graph, etc.

Platforms that can accelerate your journey

Our proprietary intelligent toolkit for ingestion, preprocessing, processing, extraction, clustering, classification, summarization, and sentiment analysis from unstructured data to structured data utilizing APIs to enable transformation, processing, and migration of data in multiple structures, formats, and environment.

Our proprietary Responsible AI Engine and framework that helps identify and explain biases in the dataset to uncover risks and compliance challenges with options to govern, mitigate, and remediate.
